Abstract: Weatherly Application

The Weatherly is a weather application that provides us the exact weather for today and in every country. The app also displays the current temperature, windspeed, and there are icons for each day that let you know if it's sunny, rainy, cloudy etc. We use an API to get the exact weather and time for each country that the user finds. In addition, The Weatherly refreshes its data often, ensuring that you always have access to the most recent information. The app ensures that you always have access to the most accurate and recent weather updates. Whether you're planning your daily activities or checking in on a distant location, Weatherly is your go-to app for a seamless and reliable weather experience.
